Describe the specific purpose for the OPDIV use of the third-party Website or application:

Linktree is a social media service that allows a user to create a resource that contains links they want to share with followers on social platforms such as Instagram, Facebook, YouTube, Twitter and LinkedIn.

To create a Linktree account, the user provides a username, email address and pre-defined category information about the links they will post.

Once the account is created, the user adds their preferred links, copies the unique Linktree Uniform Resource Locator (URL), and pastes it into the 'Website' field of their social media account, such as Instagram or Twitter, or they may share the link on Facebook and/or YouTube. If Linktree is updated, all links are updated on their social media accounts.

There is no charge for creating a basic Linktree page; revenue is generated from the premium options.

NIH does not collect, use or disclose any information about users views , links or accounts.

This is an umbrella Third Party Website Applications (TPWA) Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) that will be used National Institutes of Health (NIH) wide, by all Institutes, Centers and Offices (ICOs).
